

What Our Franchise Owners Are Saying

Antique Louis XVI Writing Desk:

“Local auction houses and antique dealers need a solid packing and shipping partner to support their business. The training and support received from the home office provides me with the tools and ability to pack anything fragile, large, awkward, or valuable for businesses in my territory.”

200 Year old Painting by Th. Rousseau:

“Art Galleries and Museums have a specific packaging and shipping requirement to ensure new and old artwork will be transported safely. Our signature packaging process and standards exceed their expectation and we have become the preferred vendor in our market.”

Chair from House of Commons:

“Movers specialize in big moves or things that are already packed and ready to ship. But customers often have small move needs – requiring one item to a roomful shipped. Navis Pack & Ship specializes in small moves less than 1,500 pounds. That’s why many movers call us first for their customers to handle small shipment. . The home office has built national relationships with the various moving companies to make certain we get the lead first.”

Small end table (brown, black and gold):

“Navis Pack & Ship is the fragile, large, awkward, and valuable specialist. We are partners with many banks and attorneys who handle estate distribution. Ship multiple estate items to multiple locations, locally or around the world. We’ll be your single source for all storage, sorting, packing, shipping and delivery. We have the warehouse, the tracking software, and the ability to ship anything anywhere.”

Armoire:

“Whether it’s a single antique armoire, a roomful of contemporary furniture, or a commercial display piece, it needs special packaging to ensure damage-free shipping. Navis Pack & Ship can handle one piece of furniture or a roomful! We understand the needs of families, interior design stores, or home furnishing stores that need our service to move one piece down the street, across the country, or around the world.”

Very Old Spinning Wheel:

“The typical mail and parcel location cannot handle goods that cannot fit into a box. Navis Pack & Ship is partners with businesses that some people might see as our competitor. The mail and parcel stores need Navis Pack & Ship to take care of their customer when they cannot service them because the goods are too large, fragile, awkward, or they cannot provide the proper insurance. Navis is a business-to-business solution based packaging and shipping company.”

Large Blue Equipment:

“We live in a global society and businesses are moving equipment – machinery, medical equipment, office equipment, and manufactured goods around the world. Navis Pack & Ship has the ability to service area businesses as their outsourced shipping department. Navis has the training, expertise, and connections to ship anything around the world.”

Limited Edition Elton John Signature Watch:

“We don’t only pack and ship large items. We are the experts in packaging small and valuable things too. If it has to arrive to the final destination safely, Navis Pack & Ship understand s the art of packing and provides the right materials and shipping partner to ensure the customer’s items arrive without worry. Each location has trained staff and support through the home office, the help desk, or with the network of franchise operators to get any job packed, shipped, and arrive on time and safe.”
